Ike Stresses Need Of Health Program

Pays Warm Tribute To Commission's Probe Of CIA Will Continue Al Smith

by MARVIN ARROWSMITH
NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower declared Thursday night his program designed to bolster voluntary health insurance programs — a program shelved by the Republican-run 83rd Congress — is "the logical alternative to socialized medicine."

In an address at a dinner honoring the late Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, the President said the proposal will be resubmitted to the next session of Congress, convening in January.

Eisenhower said his health plan "will be an important part of a health program filling in the great gaps in the field of health."

The President's speech tabbed "nonpolitical" by the White House — came after a busy day in New York which included a three and a half hour tour of housing, highway and hospital projects. He also put the spurs to New York Republican workers in the party's home stretch drive for continued control of Congress in the Nov. 2 elections.

Late in the day, the chief executive met with former Rep. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey — target of factional opposition within his own Republican party — and the White House reported after the conference that Eisenhower "has not changed one iota" in his endorsement of Case, in his bid for a U.S. Senate seat on the Republican ticket.

Eisenhower's address, carried nationwide on television and radio — was mainly a warm tribute to Al Smith, late governor of New York and 1928 Democratic presidential nominee. The President noted the charitable functions of the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Fund organization in the fields of health and medicine. Eisenhower added that Smith himself realized that "the health of a people is intertwined with their schooling, their opportunities for leisure and play, their access to hospitals and medicine."

Eisenhower said that in New York state Smith fought "a long war for man's right to enjoy the best means for the preservation of good health and its restoration whenever injured or lost."

The President said no one dared call Smith's program "a wedge for socialism." Smith instead was regarded as a champion of freedom, opportunity and responsibility. Eisenhower declared.

Turning then to his own administration's health proposals, the President dealt at some length with the plan for establishing what he called "a sound reinsurance program" to bolster and expand coverage under voluntary health insurance plans.

U.S. Will Increase Aid To Pakistan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States agreed Thursday to step up sharply its aid to Pakistan, to a total of about 155 million dollars this fiscal year. The aim is to bolster the economy of a key partner in the defense system against communism.

Of the total, 105 million would go for economic assistance, as compared with 20 million in the fiscal year ended last June. It was reported that military aid would total about 50 million, a 100 per cent increase over the figure previously planned for the current year.

Prime Minister Mohammed Ali, hastening home because of reports of political unrest in his capital, expressed satisfaction with his discussions with administration leaders, calling the talks "very profitable."

WEST WILL USE A. H. WEAPONS MONTGOMERY SAYS

LONDON (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery said Thursday night the West would definitely use atomic and thermonuclear weapons if attacked.

The deputy supreme Allied commander at SHAPE told the Royal United Services Institution:

"I want to make it absolutely clear that we at SHAPE are basing all our operational planning on using atomic and thermonuclear weapons in our defense."

U.N. Kills Hopes Of Red China For Seat This Year

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The General Assembly buried Red China's U. N. membership hopes decisively Thursday for the rest of the year.

Against the background of a resolution adopted on opening day exactly a month ago — to shelve the Red China issue — the Assembly took a separate vote on Nationalist China's credentials. Only 10 countries voted against accepting them. Thirty-five voted in favor and three abstained.

The five countries of the Soviet bloc plus India, Indonesia, Burma, Sweden and Yugoslavia were the 10 that voted against Nationalist China, Israel and Norway.

India's V. K. Krishna Menon moved too slowly to interfere. He later said the vote was put wrongly before the Assembly under charter provisions. Both Menon and Russia's Jacob A. Malik insisted that only Red China was entitled to represent China in the U. N.

But even Soviet Chief Delegate Andrei V. Vishinsky kept the debate pitched to a calm level today as the Assembly ratified decisions of its Steering Committee to postpone until Nov. 2 Russian and Red China charges of U. S. aggression in and around the Nationalist island of Formosa.

Four Men Burned, One Seriously In Plane Refueling

CHICAGO (AP)—Three ground crewmen and a city fireman were injured when a United Airlines DC-6 was engulfed in flames during a refueling operation at Midway Airport Thursday.

Nine passengers and four members of the plane's flight crew escaped injury. United Airlines estimated damage to the four-engine plane, en route from Seattle to New York, at $200,000.

Firemen said sparks from the motor of a baggage truck ignited gasoline vapors from a broken hose being used to refuel the plane. The right wing caught fire and flames quickly spread to the entire front of the plane.

The fire engulfed Harry Bailing, 28, who was refueling the ship. Five other ground crewmen ripped off his blazing clothes. He suffered burns that covered his body. His condition was listed as critical.

Gerald Goodman, 26, and Richard Sawyer, 29, also ground workers, were burned less seriously. Fireman Earl Wingate, 39, was overcome by smoke and taken to a hospital.

Stewardess Emily W. Wagner of New York City led the passengers to safety through the regular exit, while three crewmen trapped in the forward compartment escaped through an emergency hatch.

Ten Jurors Picked For Murder Trial Of Dr. Sheppard

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ten jurors were tentatively seated Thursday in the first degree murder trial of Dr. Samuel Sheppard. A full and final panel was conceivable by nightfall Friday.

"Three more housewives were added — including a lady who finds it hard to change her mind. There now are six women and four men, with two vacancies to fill. Then a weeding out process occurs and a final panel is sworn in."

The last woman seated was Mrs. Grace L. Prinz, mother of four and wife of a meat packing foreman. She declared during questioning that once her mind is made up it isn't easily changed.

She finally conceded she could discuss the case with her fellow jurors and conceivably change her mind to agree with them. Then she added firmly:

"But there would have to be an awful lot of discussion about it."

The defense in its fourth day of examining prospective jurors began picking away at bulwarks in the state's case—the demand for the death penalty and the circumstantial evidence against the 30-year-old osteopath.

The state has no known witnesses to the slaying. But it has built up a circumstantial case. And it has offered as a possible motive his purported love affair with 24-year-old Susan Hayes, a pretty technician who once worked in the same hospital with him.

Assistant prosecutor John J. Mahon bore down at one point during the day to stress that Ohio law allows a conviction and a death sentence "on circumstantial evidence alone."

The researchers were Drs. Henry I. Rusek of Staten Island and Burton L. Zohman of Brooklyn.

Hint End Of Dock Strike In England May Be Near

LONDON (AP)—A surprise hint that peace may be near in Britain's waterfront strike came Thursday night from government circles as the walkout paralyzed ship day even deeper into the night and threatened the economy.

The 18-day strike of some 44,000 workers in the nation's major seaports, has tied up 300 million dollars' worth of exports and imports and has added more than 330 ships.

Foodstuffs are getting in supplies, and a miniature airlift is under way from the Continent.

An "atmosphere of better will" prevailed Thursday at the government Board of Inquiry hearings, officials said. The board will go into private session tomorrow with employers and union heads.

The likelihood of bringing in troops which loomed ominously over the strike scene for the past week, seems to have receded a little. "A government official said today that the government is not planning to use troops."

The walkout developed over a demand by dockers for the right to reject overtime work. It has the enthusiastic support of British Communists.

Only some 1,000 strikers—members of the Independent National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers Union—have backed the union leaders. The 33,000 others joined the struggle in wildcat moves against the appeals of their Transport and General Workers Union officials.

Nab Puerto Rican Red At U.S.-Mexico Border Town

HIDALGO, Tex. (AP)—The secretary general of the Communist party in Puerto Rico was arrested by FBI agents in this U.S.-Mexico border town Thursday on charges he advocated the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

The agents nabbed Ramon Mirabal Carrion, 41, reportedly as he came through the port of entry here from Reynosa, Mex.—just a stone's throw across the Rio Grande.

In Washington, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Mirabal Carrion's arrest was made in conjunction with the seizure Wednesday of 10 other leading members of the Puerto Rican Communist party in New York City and Puerto Rico.

Hoover said Mirabal Carrion disappeared from his San Juan, Puerto Rico, home last June and "entered the Communist party's underground network."

He was specifically charged with violating the Smith Act, which forbids the advocacy of the forcible overthrow of this government.

THE WEATHER — TYPICALLY AUTUMN

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Typical autumn weather—sunny skies, cool temperatures and light winds—prevailed over much of the nation Thursday.

The only wet spots were the coastal regions of Virginia and Delaware; Iowa, Missouri and western Arkansas, and southern Washington and western Oregon.

Midday temperatures over most of the nation were slightly higher than the previous day, with readings in the 50s and 60s. A few occurred in rain areas of the West while readings in the 70s and 80s were reported in the border states.

There was some cooling in the Central and Southern Plains.

Midday readings were a chill 47 at Ephrata, Wash., and a balmy 91 at El Centro, Calif. Other temperatures included Chicago, 62; Boston, 50; Washington, D. C., 60; Atlanta, 66; Miami, 80; Dallas, 79; Denver, 65; Omaha, 59; Fargo, N. D., 61; Billings, Mont., 64; Seattle, 48; Salt Lake City, 64; and San Francisco, 66.

SEN. KENNEDY UNDERGOES SPINAL OPERATION

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) was reported "very comfortable" Thursday night after undergoing a major operation to correct an undisclosed spinal condition.

The Hospital for Special Surgery said the four-hour operation was "successful." No details were released.

Kennedy, 37, suffered a spine injury when a torpedo boat which he commanded in World War II was cut in two by a Japanese destroyer.

Navy Orders Review Of Dr. Condon Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy Thursday suspended the limited security clearance it gave last July to Dr. Edward U. Condon, physicist and former head of the government's Bureau of Standards.

Secretary of the Navy Thomas ordered a further review of the whole case. He said that after a personal study he had decided that "there is sufficient evidence to warrant a complete reconsideration of this action."

No hint of the nature of the evidence was given. The 52-year-old atomic expert, who is now research director for the Corning Glass Works commented at Corning, N. Y.

"I have been fully cleared four times by four different boards, the last of which was on July 12, 1954. I shall be pleased to be cleared a fifth time, and I know that a review of my record will end in such clearance."

The glass company, which does work for the Navy, said it would await further information from Secretary Thomas but said in a statement:

"Dr. Condon will continue to be employed in nonclassified work until such time as a more complete ruling and determination of this work with emphasis and union heads can be made."

Thomas said the review will be carried out by a three-man panel to be appointed by the Eastern Regional Industrial Security Board, which granted Dr. Condon limited access to government secrets in 1948.

Condon's name has figured in security inquiries since the House un-American Activities Committee accused him, while he was director of the Bureau of Standards in 1948, of associating with suspected Russian spies.

Condon denied then that he was, as the House committee termed him, "one of the weakest links" in the nation's atomic security. "I am one of the weakest links in the nation's atomic security," he said, "this is gratifying information, because I'm absolutely reliable and therefore we (the nation) have nothing to worry about. The country can relax."

Last June Dr. Condon disclosed that defense department security officials were reviewing his "continued access to classified information." Pending this review, he said he was working "exclusively on nonmilitary projects involving no access to classified information."

"The old professor bookish and too high in the sky to see the need within our economy for little producers, who seek the oil where the promise is not too bright. That band of little fellows is necessary in the oil picture or we would have and industry that only skimmed the cream."

"The great strength of our natural resources industries lies not in reducing all components to mediocrity through socialism but in rewarding each according to his own initiative and enterprise."

Report Element In Cigarette Papers Causes Cancer

NEW YORK (AP)—Two researchers said Thursday they had found a substance in smoke from cigarette papers that causes cancer in mice.

One of them said he had discovered a way to eliminate the cancer-causing substance.

The reports came from D. V. Lefemine, chemist at the Cancer Institute of Miami, Fla., and from H. J. Rand, head of a Cleveland research organization which is partly financed by a tobacco company.

Lefemine, in a report to the Southern regional meeting of the American Chemical Society in Birmingham, said laboratory work had turned up the cancer-producing element-benzopyrene.

It was found in tars extracted from smoke produced in burning cigarette papers, he said. He added experiments have proved in animal experiments to be one of the most powerful cancer-causing agents.

In response to newsmen's questions, Snyder said distribution of the photograph was "in no way" related to the congressional election campaign.

Three U.S. Doctors Share Nobel Prize For Polio Fight

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The Research Division of Infectious Diseases of the Children's Medical Center, Boston, Mass. Enders is director of the division and Weller is assistant director.

They developed in 1949 a method of growing polio virus in cultures composed of nonnervous human tissue in a nutrient bath. This development made possible the growth of sufficient polio virus—of the three known strains—so that the 1954 polio vaccine program could be carried out in the United States. Results of that program are still being compiled.

Enders, 57, was born at West Hartford, Conn. Educated at Yale and Harvard, he engaged in active research dating back to the late 1920s when he was concerned with studies of the tubercle bacillus and various types of pneumococcus.

Weller, 36, was born at Ann Arbor, Mich., the son of Dr. Carl V. Weller, chairman of the Department of Pathology of the University of Michigan Medical School.

During World War II, Robbins, 38, as an officer in the Army Medical Corps, was responsible for isolating the Rickettsia of "Q fever" in the Mediterranean area. He was born at Auburn, Ala.

Germany Included In Pact

PARIS (AP)—Nine anti-Communist allies of the Western world reached a historic agreement Thursday night on formation of the Western European Union. It will include the arms and men of an all but fully sovereign West Germany.

Foreign ministers of the nine nations virtually completed the agreements here Thursday including the forging of tight controls over Germany's military potential for the rest of this century. Details were being hammered out so that each government may soon ask for ratification of their parliaments of treaties that will link West Germany to NATO.

Agreement to bring the Bonn republic into the proposed avianation Western European Union—adding West Germany and Italy to the already organized Benelux organization—followed quickly after the American, British, French and West German ministers agreed on terms to end the nearly 10-year occupation of Germany and restore, with a few exceptions, complete sovereignty to that part of the divided nation.

That agreement was reached by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden, French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

France—thrice invaded by Germany and two of those times in this century—won the approval of her partners for a far-reaching pattern of control which will bar the Germans from raising unlimited forces or making atomic weapons without French consent until 1968.

The other members of the Western European Union—better known as the Brussels Alliance of 1948—were Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. The Brussels Alliance has been reshaped to replace the defunct European Defense Community. Britain's involvement makes it stronger than EDC, since the Churchill government has promised to keep four divisions and a tactical air force on the European continent for the remaining 44 years of the 50-year pact.

The agreements pave the way for West Germany's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as the 15th member of the alliance against Communism that girds most of the northern hemisphere. The NATO Council meets tomorrow to take that decision.

One major issue alone remains to be settled within the next 48 hours before the achievement of these goals can be considered assured.

It concerns the future status of the Saar—1,000 square miles of rich coal and steel producing territory which both the Germans and French want to control.

Experts of the two countries are inching toward agreement—an agreement that would place the Saarland under the control of the seven West European Union nations until a final German peace settlement. In the meantime German political parties would get the right—now denied to them—to contest elections.

SPAULDING DESERVES THANKS OF CITY

O. H. Spaulding, better known to most Jacksonville residents as "Ol," has retired from active duty with the City after more than 34 years in the street department. During much of this time he was the superintendent of the department, charged with the responsibility of making the taxpayers' dollars go as far as possible in the maintenance and improvement of our streets and alleys.

In this job it has been difficult to please everyone. And it always will be difficult no matter who directs the work. Ol Spaulding, over the years, has had his share of criticism, particularly from the type of citizen who thinks the street he lives on is the most important one in town. We think it is time that the people of the community give him a vote of thanks for what he achieved.

The very fact that Mr. Spaulding was reappointed to the department by many different mayors after his initial selection by Mayor Widmayer clearly indicates that those who knew the caliber of his work valued his services as a municipal employee. They knew that city funds would not be wasted if Ol Spaulding had anything to do with it.

Upon the occasion of his retirement we wish him well and congratulate him, on behalf of the community, for a job well done.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The biggest mistake the white collar class today is to cling to the white shirt. The white shirt for a couple of generations has been a gentle badge of superiority in America, a stuffy emblem of stuffy respectability.

When a guy had nothing else to boast about, he could at least feel proud in his heart because he earned his living indoors and wore a white shirt. For some obscure reason this made him feel a cut above the rough-handed skilled workmen who went hoistiously to their jobs in dungarees or old leather jackets.

Whatever reason existed for this feeling vanished when the skilled workmen began dragging down more take home pay than the office workers, and that has been true for some time now.

A policeman wears a blue uniform so he can be readily identifiable when you have to help for help. But the office worker's white shirt has become a uniform to him, too, although he doesn't realize it, and really doesn't need to wear a uniform at all. It seems to me his white shirt has become a symbol of inferiority, not superiority.

For years I have been crusading against the out-of-date snobbery of the white shirt, which most men actually wear for one of three reasons:

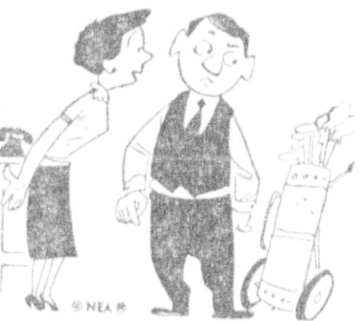

1. Their father wore one.
2. They are afraid to wear a colored shirt because they don't want to stand out from their fellow white sheep in the herd.
3. Their wives tell them they look younger or cuter in a white shirt. (But the wives should know better.)

It is a pleasure indeed to note now that one of the nation's leading shirtmakers is attacking the old shibboleth in a series of ads entitled: "Never wear a white shirt before sundown."

"A white shirt with a business suit is really the fondest thing you can wear," this firm asserts. "It looks clean in the morning, but by afternoon it gets soiled at the collar and cuffs. This looks awful. Wearing a white shirt at the office is a pitiful abdication of individuality. No well-dressed man should wear a white shirt before sundown."

This style verdict makes sense, even if one is so unkind as to suspect that it is part of an insidious campaign to get us into the two-shirt-a-day class — a colored one at the office, a white shirt in the evening.

Manners Make Friends

You ask the person who telephones a dinner invitation, "May I check with my husband to see if he is free and call you back?" That's quite all right—but be sure to call back the same day.

If you can't go, your hostess will probably want to invite another couple in your place.

The World Today

By ED CREAGH
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Somebody ought to sit down with Brother Shad before he leaves town to night and have a chat about race segregation and such matters.

"Brother Shad" is the affectionate nickname many Liberian voters have bestowed on their President who is winding up a three-day official visit to Washington. His full name is Dr. William V. S. Tubman. Close friends call him "Cousin Shad."

As the Negro President of a Negro republic, Tubman knows a lot about racial problems such as many American communities are concerned with.

"There is," he says, "not the slightest shade of discrimination of any kind in Liberia."

And yet:

1. Only Negroes are allowed to vote.
2. For decades there have been barriers between the country's 100,000 civilized inhabitants and the more than two million tribesmen of the interior.
3. For decades, too, there have been feuds between the tribes.
4. The present political setup in Liberia stems from a revolt in the 1880s by darker-skinned "common men" against the then dominant Republican party, which was controlled by lighter-skinned Negroes.

Tubman, a Methodist minister's son, has moved energetically to narrow the gulfs between differing elements of the population.

He called a national council last May, fired two district commissioners and suspended a tribal chief, and gave his people a firm talking-to.

"It has been proved in our own lifetime," he said, "that the civilized population cannot get along without the uncivilized; neither element can exterminate the other."

"For more than 80 years since the founding fathers (from the American South) settled here, we have tried to destroy each other by internal war. For the past 10 years we have been working hard for the unification of the people, but there are still a few diehards on both sides opposing the unification program."

How do people take this? Well, the tribal chiefs, at least, seem to be solidly in Tubman's corner. "Tubman has swept throughout the country," says Nyenweh, Chief H. Langfor, according to the public relations firm which is publicizing the President's trip.

And Johnnie Voker, head man of another clan, says: "We were all blind but President Tubman has opened our eyes. We will hold him tight."

One solid sign the Tubman technique works: The President has served one eight-year term, was re-elected to a four-year term and is an odds-on favorite to win a third term.

The United States is helping Liberia through a five-year program of technical aid, mostly to industry and agriculture. Tubman is here in the hope of getting that program extended. He's also working in a few social engagements such as a dinner Friday night in Akron, Ohio, and something that may surprise some people: a trip to Georgia at the invitation of Gov. Herman Talmadge.

Costly Mix-up—Red Skin Cream—Kite Writer—Stagecraft Is Obvious—Venetian Teamsters

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Pentagon sources now reveal that the stock-room boner at the Electric Boat Company in Groton, Conn., which resulted in the wrong kind of steam pipe being installed in the atomic sub, Nautilus, now involves the Navy's whole atomic submarine program.

Another undetermined quantity of welded, instead of seamless, steel pipe has been installed in an assembly section which is part of the big General Electric sub reactor project at West Milton, N. Y.

GE is building the nuclear power plant there for the second A-sub, the Sea Wolf. And Electric Boat has provided GE with prototype sections of the Sea Wolf for testing purposes.

The Sea Wolf itself is being built at Groton, next to the spot where the Nautilus was constructed, and it, too, is reported to have some faulty pipe in it. The error is also reported to have spread to work that Westinghouse and the Atomic Energy Commission are doing on the A-sub program.

When the seamless pipe was delivered to Electric Boat it was placed in the firm's pipe stock room, which also contained the weaker, welded pipe. Workmen mistakenly

The skin cream, "Jadran," was advertised in Czechoslovakian papers as a new discovery permitting "natural tanning."

HARRY EDWARD SEAL, an official of the U. S. Secret Service, writes books for a hobby and has just come up with one entitled "The Story of the Kite." It's for both kids and grownups.

He got started on the project when helping his 10-year-old son fly a kite one Sunday. The kite was smashed and Harry said he'd check his library and find out how to make a new one.

This research got him interested in the subject, with the result that he did the book. "It is," he reveals, "an Englishman once hitched kites to his carriage and had a wild, 113-mile ride. He also tells how the British used kites to drop spies behind enemy lines during the Boer War."

The book includes instructions on how to make kites and even how to fly one for fishing.

Everyone in the White House has read the book with interest and it's expected that Ike will have some competition for space in his back yard on windy days when he wants to practice chin shots.

CHARLES F. SLESNER, Commissioner of Public Housing Administration, took a roundhouse swing at the National Association of Real Estate Boards for its stand on low-rent public housing recently in a speech to public housing officials. He said:

"In their eagerness to produce and slay a dragon to impress the paid-up membership, they have taken a useful cow, painted it black and hung a socialist tag on it. They have then pointed at the color and the tail and predicted all forms of danger and doom. From a distance, I suppose this act is quite impressive, but close up, the stagecraft is much too obvious."

LIKE A LOT of Americans this year, Dave Beck, president of the teamsters' union, took a vacation in Italy this summer. But he mixed business with pleasure because, when he got back, he told a friend:

"In Venice truck drivers use gondolas. I stayed overnight long enough to inquire as to whether or not these gondola drivers are teamsters. I found out later that some are in the Communist teamsters and some are in the free-trade union teamster movement."

It comes in two packages—in a one-pound package which makes five quarts of nonfat milk and in a three-quart premeasured package. The three-quart size contains three individually wrapped envelopes. Each makes one quart of the milk.

One-half cup of this instant nonfat dry milk, the manufacturers state, contains as much protein as about a pound sirloin steak or five eggs.

Nonfat dry milk contains protein, calcium and riboflavin, everything that regular fluid milk contains except fat, which should be welcome news to the overweight.

The new instant form, as introduced at the conference, will be nationally distributed within a few days.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Grapefruit, tuna and olive casserole, steamed rice, snap beans, enriched bread, butter or margarine, cole slaw, lemon sponge cake, coffee, tea, milk.

The World Owes a Great Debt to Florence Nightingale

Without the aid of nurses, physio-hospital died like flies. Many who were sent to the "hospitals" of the pre-Nightingale era people who enter hospitals each considered themselves practically year would be in a sad plight; a condemned to death — and they hospital without nurses is inconceivable.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE's first big opportunity came when the Crimean War broke out in 1854. She offered her services as a nurse. She found on her arrival that the scene of hostilities that in focus public attention on the barracks hospital alone, there were four miles of wounded soldiers lying less than 18 inches apart.

This was years before the part played by nurses in diseases was known or the principals of antiseptic surgery discovered. Florence Nightingale realized nevertheless that efficient nursing demands of thousands of devoted girls and cleanliness. She found that the hospital had no basin, towel, soap or broom in the whole place. She set to work with pail and scrub brush and cleanliness followed shortly.

MISS NIGHTINGALE was an invaluable part of her life which made her accomplishments all the more remarkable. Since Florence Nightingale's time, the nursing profession has gone through many trials and tribulations. In some respects and at some periods, nurses have truly been the forgotten servants of medicine. They have been underpaid and overworked. Now their economic situation is gradually improving. But today as always, the ideals of the nursing profession remain service to suffering humanity rather than financial or economic gain.

An excellent little pamphlet for girls considering the nursing profession has been written by Elizabeth Ogg and is called "Preparing Tomorrow's Nurses." This is available through the nonprofit Public Affairs Committee, 22 East 38th Street, New York 16, N. Y., at a cost of 25 cents.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sunday night, home viewers will see the first million-dollar production in TV history, a two-hour, network show including such stars as Eddie Fisher, Lauren Bacall and President Eisenhower.

Thomas A. Edison invented the first practical light bulb 75 years ago today. To celebrate the event, 300 electrical companies are footing the bill for a TV show that should merit strong adjectives in a season of so-called "spectaculars."

The electric people selected as producer David O. Selznick, a logical choice since he has made the most successful movie, "Gone With the Wind." I caught up with him during his whirlwind schedule and pumped him for details on the show. Until now he has been close-mouthed about it.

"They came to me with the idea for a diamond jubilee of light show last spring," he said between bites of a hasty lunch at his desk in CBS' TV city. "The deal was finalized in early summer. I was given no instructions, except that it would be a two-hour show on all networks and with no commercials."

He couldn't name the cost of the show but local estimates place it at around a million dollars. The professional actors include Judith Anderson, Walter Brennan, Joseph Cotton, Dorothy Dandridge, Brandon Dewilde, George Gobel, Helen Hayes, Guy Madison, Thomas Mitchell, David Niven and Kim Novak.

Ben Hecht wrote the script with assistance from such men as John Steinbeck and Irwin Shaw. Film portions were directed by King Vidor, William Wellman and Christian Nyby.

"At first I thought of a format in terms of one story," Selznick explained. "It was to be a sort of American cavalcade, weaving in the changes that happened to one family starting with the electric light, but that appeared to be too dreary, too sustained."

"Then I got the idea of basing the show on the word 'light.' And so the various parts of the program will depict the light of faith, of liberty, of learning, etc. Since the show was going wherever television is received, I felt it should appeal to all parts of the audience."

Grandma's Role Today More Complicated Than in 1900

Just a few generations back when a mother became a grandmother she knew just how to play her new role, because she knew what was expected of her.

Today the role of grandmother, like every other role a woman plays, is more complicated. Once grandmother's advice was respected, today it is more likely to be resented.

Once it was assumed that if grandmothers were left widowed she would naturally go to live with one of her married children. Today there is widespread distrust of that simple solution.

Once it was generally accepted that when a woman had reared her children her life's work was done. Today more and more grandmothers are supporting themselves wholly or in part. The able-bodied grandmother who sits down and expects to be supported by married children is measured by the grandmother who is matter-of-factly earning her own living.

SPOLING GRANDCHILDREN IS RESENTED. Once it was taken for granted that a grandmother didn't need friends and a social life of her own. Now older women are urged to have their own social lives.

Once a grandmother's spoiling of her grandchildren was accepted as natural. Now it is likely to be bitterly resented by the children's parents. So today's grandmothers—just like today's young wives—are finding that they are on an uncharted course.

There hasn't been much written to guide them. But a new book just published by Association Press, called "In-Laws Pro and Con," by Evelyn Mills Duvall, has a chapter called "Mother-in-Law as a Grandmother" that throws a clear light on

Commie Warships Met In Pacific Commander Says

PEARL HARBOR — Communist warships have been contacted in the Pacific, the commander in chief of the U. S. Pacific Fleet said Wednesday.

Adm. Felix B. Stump declared at a news conference that none of the Communist warships or submarines has acted in a hostile manner. He didn't identify the Communist craft but he obviously referred to Russia.

He indicated the Communist vessels, which he said have been sighted throughout the Pacific, were unaware that they had been seen, thus suggesting the contacts were made by U. S. submarines.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Already virtually assured by her predominant contributions, continued American command of Allied forces in Europe would be clinched by one of the arrangements now being worked out in Paris in connection with establishment of the Western European Union.

This is a provision that in case of war the supreme Allied command would take complete charge of distribution of supplies for all the armies.

This is of primary importance to France and Germany, since it means the commander will have the power to clamp down immediately on the supplies of any ally which might decide to make war on another.

But it also means that neither a Frenchman nor a German would be given such powers, leaving only Britain as a possible contender for the command, a contention she did not make in World War II when her commitment was vastly greater than it is to NATO or to WEU.

As the series of conferences progressed at Paris the prospect that the new European defense arrangement would be worked out this week began to be accepted as a fact, although France and Germany still had not settled all of their differences over the Saar. One important step was taken.

however, when France agreed to permit a considerable increase in Saar exports to Germany.

This has been an important issue with the Saarlanders themselves who, though basically German, are satisfied with their profitable economic ties with France. They want to be able to buy more consumer goods from Germany, where they can get better prices on automobiles and numerous other items.

This also maintains a tie between the Saar and Germany which makes it politically easier for Chancellor Adenauer to recognize the French-Saar economic integration on which France insists.

France is insisting on the Saar settlement before final action on the other treaties now being worked out because she is convinced she could never get a settlement afterward. In other words she is withholding German sovereignty and German rearmament until she gets what she wants in the way of guarantees that Saar production shall continue as a part of French economic strength, especially in the field of coal and steel, thus maintaining her parity with Germany in allied councils.

Fire Department Has Rescue Boat Fully Equipped

A rescue boat for use in event of emergencies at the city lakes has been delivered to the fire department. It is mounted on wheels ready to be towed any place at a moment's notice.

The 14 foot Dura-Craft aluminum boat was purchased by the fire committee, following discussion by the council several weeks ago as to the value of rescue equipment. The craft will be equipped with grappling hooks and other rescue devices.

Several drownings and near-drownings at Lake Jacksonville and Lake Mauvasterre during the past several years led to procurement of the equipment. This action was recommended by a coroner's jury after the death of a 12 year old youth and the rescue of several other persons from Lake Mauvasterre when a boat nosed over.

NO DOG'S LIFE

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (P)—"Buster" the Dalmatian dog who tried out as mascot with the fire department sits forlornly in the humane society shelter, a victim of technological unemployment.

It isn't Buster's fault, firemen said he qualified for the job. He even hopped upon the seat of the aerial ladder when the fire bell rang.

But then the firemen looked around them. The environment wasn't right for Buster, brick and pavement completely surrounded the downtown station. "Not even a place to bury a bone," they said as they bid Buster goodbye.

Salvation Army Mediates Much Family Trouble

Domestic relations and juvenile adjustments topped the list of Salvation Army activities in Morgan county for the first nine months of 1954. Major Henri Servais said Tuesday.

A total of 100 cases involving marital difficulties were interviewed, 78 of which were reconciled. The fundamental causes in most cases, according to Major Servais, were eruptions caused by excessive drinking rating as number one, and followed by a lack in appreciation of monetary values, and forced marriages, many of which resulted in infidelity.

During the nine month period 61 cases of juvenile problems were brought to the attention of the Army. The Major emphasized the "wise parents and guardians deal with their children when the first signs of 'all of the wild' appear."

"The most general causes prompting these conditions are excessive independence, caused by an obvious lack of restraint on the part of the parents, as well as a very serious lack of proper living examples by the responsible parties," Servais said.

A total of 108 cases with difficulties of another nature were attended to, and 265 meals were served to transients, while 4,907 articles of clothing and shoes were given to families on the needy list.

The Salvation Army is a member of the Community Chest family of agencies, with offices at 122 Diamond Court.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (P)—The Stock market ran into a wave of profit taking toward the close Thursday which wiped out many earlier gains and gave the list an irregular appearance.

By the final bell, some shares were up better than a point and others were down as much.

Steels and motors did better than the rest of the list, holding to gains that ranged to around a point. The railroads and aircrafts, market leaders in recent sessions, were especially hit by profit taking.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed off 10 cents at 136.60. The industrials gained 10 cents, the rails lost 60 cents and the utilities advanced 10 cents.

Despite the slight dip in the averages, there were more advances than declines. A total of 502 stocks went up and 429 declined. Issues traded came to 1,221 against 1,213 Wednesday. There were 90 new highs and seven new lows.

Volume almost matched Wednesday's. It totaled 2,320,000 shares compared with 2,360,000.

Thoroughly mixed prices also prevailed on the American Stock Exchange. Marion Power Shovel, American Republics, Imperial Oil, Mead Johnson and New Jersey Zinc posted gains while Cessna, Colonial Airlines, International Petroleum and Pittsburgh Metallurgical closed lower.

Volume on the American Exchange was 60,000 shares—40,000 less than Wednesday.

Railroad obligations led the bond market higher, but U. S. government issues declined a trifle.

New York Bond Market

By ARTHUR MERIMS

NEW YORK (P)—Railroads tilted the corporate bond market forward Thursday but U. S. government obligations declined.

Strong demand for bonds of the Missouri Pacific Railroad boosted "Big Board" volume to $5,050,000 par value from $3,245,000 Wednesday. Trusts of the "bankrupt" road petitioned a federal court to allow payment of $66,014,788 in back interest on MOPAC bonds.

The court action touched off a wave of buying and selling at improved prices in MOPAC issues, accounting for $1,401,000 par value volume. MOPAC 8s of 1981 rose two points at 118. Up 1 1/2, the 8s of 1980 at 119 and the general 8s at 112 1/2.

Strength in Missouri Pacific spread to other carriers, Lehigh Valley, Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago Great Western, Big Four, Pere Marquette, Wabash and New York Central gained ground. Utilities and industrials were fairly steady. Most changes were fractions.

PRICES ADVANCE IN STEADY TRADING

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (P)—All grains closed with fair-sized gains on the Board of Trade Thursday even though some late selling cut back prices from their day's highs.

The market started out very slowly, but steady it inched higher throughout the first hour without attracting much trading. As it continued to go up, however, activity expanded and there was a good volume of trade for the day, particularly in wheat and soybeans.

Wheat closed 1/2 to 1 cent higher, corn 1 1/2-1 1/4 higher, oats 1/4 to 1 cent higher, rye 1 1/2-1 1/4 higher, soybeans 1 1/2-2 1/2 higher and lard 2 to 52 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Main stimulus in wheat was derived from trade reports the United States was making an emergency shipment of 100,000 bushels of wheat to Turkey. More importantly, it was said Turkey needed about 13 million bushels of wheat to avert a serious shortage this winter.

Some grain men also were impressed with the fact that, although this year's winter wheat crop was smaller than that of 1933, more grain has been impounded under the government loan in the Southwest than was the case at this time last year.

They saw this as enhancing the possibility of a tight situation developing in "free" wheat—that is, wheat not tied up in the government loan—later in the crop season.

Corn enjoyed a brisk run-up at one time, largely based on a strong demand for the cash grain. Cash corn receipts were fairly large at 186 cars but prices gained 2 to 3 cents in the spot market. Purchases of corn on a to-arrive basis totaled 115,000 bushels.

Brokers thought corn was in a good technical position, claiming the grain had been oversold in earlier sessions this week. There also was a report from Buenos Aires claiming the Argentine corn and wheat crops had suffered damage from recent cold weather.

A forecast of scattered moisture for Minnesota had some influence on soybeans. Only about 12 per cent of the bean crop in that state has been harvested. There also were reports of a strong withholding movement upon the part of soybean producers.

Conferences To Study Church Problems In Rural Areas

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (P)—The little brown church is empty, and the shingles are falling to the ground.

It stands beside a farm road, its door sagging, the weeds grown high in the yard, and the dust settling deeper on the benches and the cross.

The fate of the little church is one that has befallen thousands of rural churches in America and which threatens many others.

Each year, hundreds of them have been abandoned and left to decay, or converted into granaries or livestock barns. More than 20,000 of them have ceased functioning in the last 25 years.

Against this background major denominations today are tackling the problem of church life in farm communities.

They've launched fast-expanding programs, with a score of remedies and methods, to save and revitalize rural churches.

"This doesn't mean rural people lack religious concern any more than others," said Don F. Pielstick, director of the town-and-country department of the National Council of Churches.

"It's simply that the churches there are going through a period of change and that adjustments are necessary in their organizational units to serve rural America."

To seek solutions, more than 1,000 church and lay leaders of 30 denominations will meet for three days next week, Oct. 26 to 28, in Salina, Kan., for a special rural conference sponsored by the council.

Another conference, devoted to the same subject, will be held Oct. 27 and 28 at Decorah, Iowa, by the National Lutheran Council.

Scores of similar conferences, by denominations and regions, have been held recently.

Already most churches—Methodist, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic, Baptist, Lutheran, Congregational, Christian, Episcopal and others—have formed special departments to get rural churches going again.

They've sent out "mobile units" to provide training materials and church literature.

They've organized new courses in seminars to train ministers specifically for serving rural churches—instead of letting them take the leftovers.

GIVE GALLON OR MORE BLOOD TO HELP MORGAN COUNTY

The group of women pictured above have given a gallon or more of their blood during different visits in the past when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visited Morgan County. This community service has helped keep Morgan county on the Red Cross Blood program which is now in danger. If there are not more new donors responding at the visit of the Bloodmobile Thursday and Friday, October 28 and 29, the county residents needing blood will be forced to pay the high prices prevalent for such service. This is a needless expense that healthy people can prevent by merely giving of their time and making an appointment for either day from 12 noon until 6 p.m. to donate blood.

Included in the above picture are 16 women of age. A donor may come from their parents or guardians. Mrs. Mabel Thompson, Mrs. Doris Wynn, Mrs. Jessie Hinkle of Roomhouse, Mrs. Eva Wilson of Woodson, Mrs. Florence Sims of Waverly, Mrs. Myrtle Mason of Helen, Dr. Dickinson, Miss Helen Chaffersworth, Mrs. Earl Jones, Mrs. Glen Hickie, Miss Janice Fortado, Mrs. Thea Bosartie and Mrs. Nancy Schindler. Not present when the picture was taken were Mrs. Nancy Wright of Murrayville, Mrs. Louise Savoie, Miss Dorothy Cobb, Mrs. Irene Roy, Mrs. Patricia Abbott and Mrs. Lois Perkins.

Take Donors 18 to 60. The age limit for women has been lowered and now the Red Cross will accept any healthy female 18 or over. For men, the age limit is different. Red Cross blood donors must be 21 to 60, with all young men 18 to 21 required to have written permission from the Morgan County Blood Program.

Employees of the majority of business firms are allowing employees time off from their work to give blood. An appointment must be given by phoning the Red Cross office, 1844 S. Second St., to avoid delay. The Bloodmobile will be located at the Grace Methodist church. Phone today and don't take a chance of seeing in print that Morgan County has lost its Blood Program affiliation. It will be too late to give after the County has been dropped from the program that so many neighboring communities do not have because of neglect and indifference.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up half-dozen or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. 3 Virginia Boys Win Awards In Nat'l FFA Meet

VIRGINIA—Ronnie Darland, Tip Cline and Jim Logue, FFA boys and juniors in the Virginia high school, returned Friday evening from Kansas City, where they were entered in the meat judging teams at the National FFA Convention.

The boys were winners in the state convention held in Champaign in September, and thus eligible as national contestants. They were accompanied by Shaw Terwilliger, FFA adviser and agriculture teacher in the Virginia high school.

Adviser Terwilliger reports a most beneficial trip and that the boys were successful in placing in the middle class. There were 8700 boys present, representing 43 states and Hawaii.

The group attended the National FFA Public Speaking contest. Four boys from the United States and one from Hawaii entered the finals. An Ohio boy was the winner with second place won by the boy from Hawaii.

They also attended the livestock judging and were present at the election of officers for 1955 and witnessed the presentation of American Farmer degrees.

The "Saddle and Sirolo Club" of Kansas City entertained the meat judging teams and their advisers and leaders at a barbecue. Transportation to the club was furnished by the members and a large FFA band and chorus presented music during the evening. Monty Montana, movie star, entertained with a roping exhibition.

The meat judging teams, including 800 boys and their leaders, were guests of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce at a breakfast Friday morning in the Hotel President. At this time, prominent men in the Chamber of Commerce and men from Washington who are interested in Agricultural Education were introduced. The presentation of plaques marked the close of the breakfast program and the convention.

The boys were divided into five groups: the first group being awarded gold plaques; 2nd group silver plaques; 3rd group bronze plaques; 4th group, honorable mention and 5th group, participation awards.

Tip Cline and Ronnie Darland placed in the second group and were awarded silver plaques; Jim Logue placed in the third group and received a bronze plaque.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. Ten Years Ago On Oct. 10 U.S. Began Invasion To Retake Philippines

By RUSSELL BRINES
The Associated Press

Americans roared back into the Philippines with power — and luck — 10 years ago Wednesday.

They struck at Leyte Island, the heart of the archipelago, in a gigantic gamble that has left echoes still audible in Asia today.

For seven months, the campaign was fought on land. It exploded at sea into the flaming Battle of Leyte Gulf, one of the war's climactic engagements.

Before it ended, the United States was in position to liberate all the Philippines, fulfilling what most Filipinos believed was a pledge of honor.

On the anniversary of the Leyte invasion, Oct. 20, there were few speeches and no pilgrimages back to the rugged frontier island 300 miles from Manila. Leyte has slipped into the backwash, for history no longer needs it.

But perhaps the best monument to the more than 3,500 American soldiers who died there is the conviction that, partly because of Leyte, the Philippines will continue standing firm with Americans against communism.

A decade later, the story of Leyte remains linked to a vision, a hunch and a strange decision. The vision was born in 1942 in the tunnels of Corregidor, when Gen. Douglas MacArthur knew he was defeated and started planning his comeback.

Despite MacArthur's promise, "I will return," it was not until July 1944 that top American strategists definitely eliminated the possibility of bypassing the Philippines for other Pacific targets.

MacArthur argued that recapture of the Philippines was necessary to keep faith with the Filipinos and to shorten the war by completely cutting vital Japanese supply lines to Southeast Asia. Some admirals said American lives would be saved by jumping directly to Formosa or concentrating on a drive across the central Pacific to Japan proper.

The general was given authority for return to Mindanao, the southernmost Philippine island, after a dramatic meeting in Honolulu with President Roosevelt.

Then the hunch came to Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey when carrier pilots of his roaming 3rd Fleet reported in September that Japanese defenses on Leyte were weak. Halsey recommended a swift thrust at Leyte to springboard attacks against the northern islands, eliminating the preliminary assault on nearby Mindanao.

This meant taking MacArthur's forces beyond the immediate range of land-based aircraft. But he agreed, gambling on surprise.

So, 29 months after ragged American defenders surrendered the Philippines, an armada of more than 800 ships crept back into Leyte Gulf for the big push.

The Japanese, stunned and dispersed by the pre-invasion bombardment, fought only lightly at first, except for murderous mortar and artillery fire that raked late waves of the 24th Division.

But from the first day, Leyte was a vicious, frustrating campaign, fought house to house in fortified towns, cave to cave along jagged cliffs, and mountain to mountain through seemingly impassable central ranges.

The Japanese weakened other Philippine defenses and stripped garrisons as far away as Manchuria to pour in tens of thousands of reinforcements.

The last unglamorous "mopping up" in the rolling western hills was still underway in May, 1945, when official Army reports listed 80,000 Japanese dead. That was months after American troops won control of the Philippines.

On the third day of the campaign, MacArthur proclaimed the re-establishment of the Philippine government under President Sergio Osmena, who accompanied the invasion force.

"I have returned," MacArthur said.

"Hell, what about us?" asked many of the GIs, ships' gunners and admirals.

We found later that the controversial phrase had deep meaning for thousands of Filipinos, then up against the dying gasp of Japanese brutality, for they had kept faith through the years largely on the word of this once-defeated general.

But on Leyte, the worst was yet to come—and it led to the puzzling decision of a Japanese admiral.

The still-powerful Japanese fleet, full smoke screen, our torpedo count in one of history's most remarkable feats of military seamanship, steamed ahead toward Leyte Gulf, through the tortuous San Bernardino Straits, a channel so narrow that 10,000-ton freighters have to back and turn through them.

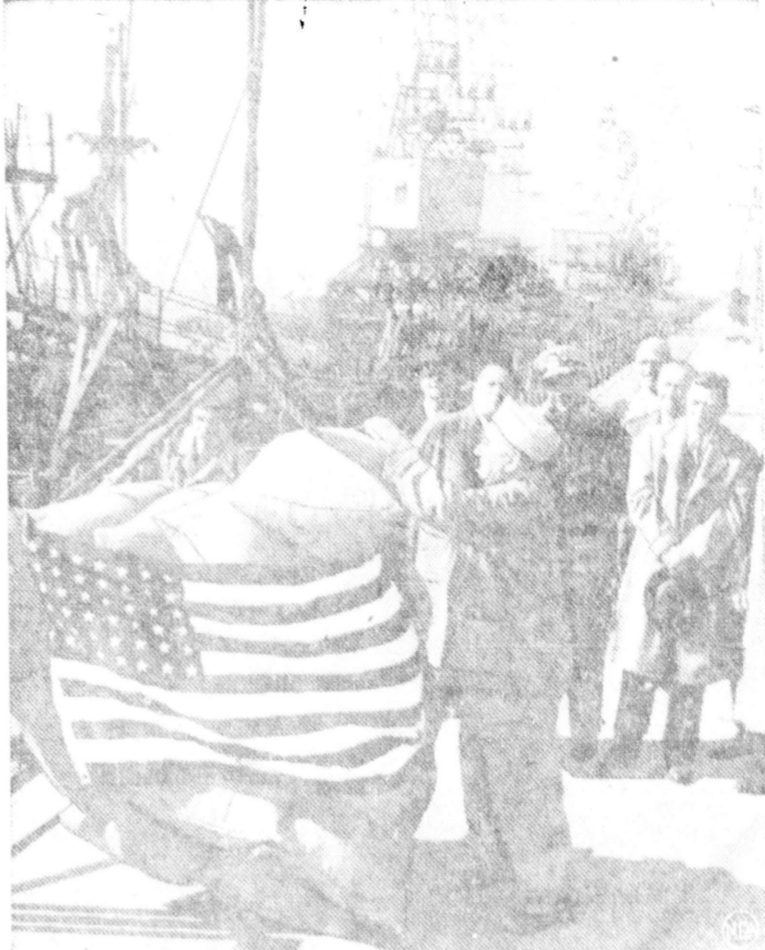

But Adm. Takeo Kurita's battle force included heavy cruisers and the giant 63,000-ton battleship Musashi, ships once considered too large for the foaming waters of the straits.

Kurita made it, however, and turned south toward the American sitting-duck transports. He ran into brave, but not impregnable, opposition from destroyers and light-weight aircraft carriers.

The Americans fought the giant Japanese battleships with fierce close-range gunfire. While an SOS went out for Halsey in the north, Kurita suddenly turned and fled with an official Marine historian says, "victory in reach."

DRAPED WITH STARS AND STRIPES—The first cluster of U. S. socks of grain for victims of Austrian floods is ready for loading on a pier in Trieste. Some 25,000 tons is being sent to stricken families stranded by Danube River floods.

Why aren't these other drives combined with the United campaign?

U.S.-Canada Plan New 'DEW' Line Radar Fence Across Arctic Waters

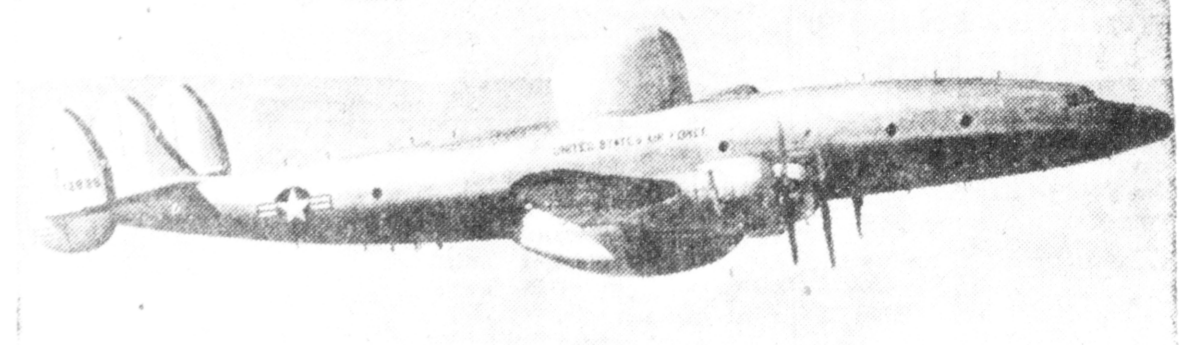

Development of Russian jet bomber types has sparked a decision by the U. S. and Canada to erect a new radar fence as far into the Arctic as possible. Officially it's a "Distant Early Warning" or DEW line. Planning for its construction will start at once. As map below shows, DEW line will be the third in the Canada-U. S. radar defense system. The Pine Tree chain is working now.

It protects the most populous areas of Canada and the northern tier of the U. S. Pine Tree also extends down the eastern and western seaboard. North from Pine Tree is the so-called M-Gill Fence, on which preliminary work was begun last year. It may be completed in two or three years. It will be entirely Canadian financed and operated. Shaded arrows on map indicate how radar fences are being extended seaward to prevent an end-run by Russian planes. This is done by picket ships and special aircraft packed with early warning radar. Officials say the new "DEW" line should pick up a piston-engined plane six hours before it could bomb Chicago or the fastest known jet (600 mph) in three hours.

Map shows approximate location of the three radar "fences" to protect Canadian and U. S. cities against bombing from the north. White arrows show approximate distances from known Russian air bases.

Radar "fences" are extended seaward by picket ships and especially equipped Constellations such as this one. Note large radar dome amidships.

Plans are also being made for strengthening the radar warning system with a network of man-made "islands" in the Atlantic from Virginia to Newfoundland. The "islands" are unique floating docks like that above. It's a sea-going barge that can shimmy up out of the water to become a dock, then shimmy down again. When it reaches the appointed off-shore position, a crane (1) hoists big steel caissons (2) and drops them through wells in the barge until they hit bottom. They are then driven down (3) until they won't go any farther. Then, by means of ingenious airjacks (4) the barge shimmies up to become a dock or, in this case, a radar platform.

DETECTORS SAVE SAWS
 F. JACKSON, S. C. 49. Mine detectors, the kind they use in wars, will be used to save timber saws from damage. Workers will take the gauges into 12,000 acres of timberland at this Army post to detect trapped embedded in some of the trees in rangeland areas. Dr. Leo Labyak, the Ft. Jackson forestry chief, estimates thousands of dollars in saw damage will be avoided.

Mishapen Tube On Way Out —

New Inventions Smooth Life's Small Wrinkles

NEW YORK — A new squeeze tube that never needs to be rolled up as it is used is being touted today as a solution to many a family quarrel about who did what to the medicine cabinet or the refrigerator.

Bradley Container Corp. of Maynard, Mass., says the polyethylene tube is filled from the bottom, rather than through the narrow capped end. Companies that are buying the specially designed plastic tubes from Bradley plan to market in them such things as drawing inks, glue, solder, jams, jellies and spreads.

Polyethylene squeeze bottles in the past have been mostly blown like glass while hot. The Bradley process uses a plunger instead of air and the tube is extruded, leaving the end open for the manufacturer to close with a machine after the tube is filled conveniently through the large end.

A freezer that catalogues its contents as the user fills it is announced by the Crolex division of Avco Manufacturing Corp. The company says packages of frozen food are stored in tilt-down trays from which the user can select any package without disturbing any other.

A new explosion-proof motor, offering extra protection for hazardous location uses, is announced by the small internal motor department of General Electric Co. at Schenectady, N. Y. The new motor features heavier frames and end shield castings, and a machined-fit conduit box. The cooling fan is made of a special plastic to avoid danger of the fan striking a spark.

If you're a parent and have a particular problem with your child, Functional Products Inc. of Warsaw, Ind., offers sleep-deprivation alarm device with an electric light and a buzzer. Two flexible bed pads are attached to the device and at the slightest moistness set off the alarm, turn on the light, and encourage the child to train himself.

PROFITABLE TRADE
 GREENVILLE, S. C. 49. Solicitor (State's attorney) James M. Mann complained about the high cost of extradition.

He got a bill from Florida in the case of a prisoner returned here from that state. The cost: $5 for the state of Florida and about $19 for the sheriff who handled the case.

When this state does the same for another state, there's no charge.

Sirloin, Chickens, Ham Most Popular Buys This Weekend

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Housewives shopping at the meat counter this weekend will find prices generally unchanged to a bit higher than last week. Sirloin, steak, veal and stewing chickens and smoked hams will be the most popular specials.

Advertising also will feature eggs, which are reduced again across the country, and apples, which are in abundant supply and offer a wide selection.

Steaks, which have been on the expensive side, will be trimmed by three to six cents a pound in some sections.

Pricing chickens will be up two to four cents a pound in most outlets but still remain a good buy, according to meat men.

Rib roasts and veal will hold at about last week's levels.

Egg prices will be down around 6 cents a dozen over most of the country and as much as 11 cents in some areas.

Coffee will be cheaper in many stores this weekend as a result of wholesale price cuts of five cents a pound by two major roasters. Produce men say the best buys in vegetables are cabbage, potatoes, onions, winter squash and cauliflower. Also recommended are brussels sprouts, sweet potatoes, celery and turnips. Lettuce and carrots are lower and moderately priced.

New FORD THUNDERBIRD
A personal car of distinction ... with Trigger-Torque performance
Something totally fresh is here—a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.
But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response... fleet, liquid agility... backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand. Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8—a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And you can have the Thunderbird with the transmission of your choice—Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.
Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease—to corner with greatest stability.
But, more important, the Thunderbird is the product of the same advanced engineering... the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

Music Teacher Shows Alaskan Films To PTA

GLASGOW—The regular monthly meeting of the P.T.A. was conducted Friday night in the local school building. The business meeting was presided over by the President, Mrs. May Hester, with many in attendance.

Miss Nita Ford of Carrollton, music instructor in the local school, presented the program of the evening. Miss Ford showed a travel film of her recent trip to Alaska. The pictures were very interesting and educational and were enjoyed by a large crowd.

A social hour followed with the serving of refreshments consisting of sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee.

The President, Mrs. May Hester, announces that the next meeting will be November 19 at the school building in Glasgow. There will be a Pot-luck supper with the supper committee being: Mr. and Mrs. Truman Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. Buel Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Verne Drake.

There will be a Parcel Post Sale during the program hour. The parcel post packages donated are not to exceed the purchasing price of fifty cents. Value of each parcel is to be stamped upon each package. Soliciting committee follows: North, Grace Little, Bernice Hanel, South, Catherine Smith, Neta Bridges; East, Mary Neff, Ileen Steelman; West, Evelyn Howard, Lola McGlasson; Corresponding committee, Lucy Mikus.

Give Mission Program

The Missionary society of the Glasgow Christian church met Wednesday afternoon, October 13, at the home of Mrs. Edith Jones. The meeting opened with a hymn and prayer. Roll call, 1st Cor. 13 chapter. Devotional leader was Mrs. Leila Hester. Worship theme, "What Is the City, but the People?" "The City of My Joy" Song, "Count Your Many Blessings" The program lesson was "A brotherhood Concern." A typical meeting of the urban work committee of Home and State Missions Planning Council demonstrates assistance given city church work.

The meeting closed by singing songs, "God Will Take Care Of You." The missionary benediction was repeated in unison.

During the social hour a contest, naming the State flowers was given by program leader, Mrs. Edith Jones. Reading "If We Knew Each Other Better," was given by Mrs. Leila Hester. Reading, "Elder Brown's Big Hit," by Mrs. Lou Adams. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Lillie Wilson, November 10th.

CHINCHILLA HAS QUINTS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The owners called it a million-to-one shot, but chinchilla quintuplets were born near here this week. And they're well and thriving, despite mama's refusal to nurse them.

They were born on the chinchilla ranch of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Miles, who hand-feed them every hour. They measure about two inches each.
